They Backed Juliet 30 to 1 and Lost Heavily.

RECORD LOWERED TO 2:14 1-2

Seventeen Heads Driven at Fort Wayne
Track Was Hard and Fast
Crossed Fronts.

Fort Wayne, Ind., Aug. 17.—Yesterday's races, postponed on account of rain, were called early this afternoon. The weather was warm with a slight breeze, the track dry, but hard, and the crowd vast. Several heats were driven, backed by much speculation. In the second heat of the 2:20 pace, Juliet lower her record from 2:20 to 2:14 1-2. She won the third heat and came in second in the fourth. Being confident of success, the bookmakers staked 30 to 1 on her and against the field. But in the fifth heat she disappointed everybody and especially her backers. She broke on the start and was the only horse distanced. The bookmakers lost heavily.

Jewelry how much it is worth? asked the girl with the straight nose. "I don't know," answered the man who was too large and stout to look at, "but I can tell you how much it is worth. It is worth the price you paid for it, and, would you believe it, he hadn't got it at the place he told her."

"How much?" cried the girl with the slim waist. "He knew she would do that and did it on purpose as she wouldn't know what he paid for it."

"Of course, men are so shy."

"But wasn't that lovely of Jack? I am sure a man with a necklace like that would make a delightful lover."

"Oh, he borrowed one of my rings; of course I knew what it was for, though I pretended not. I was awfully glad he did not select the one that had the gem."

"I should think so. But aren't you afraid that it will be stolen?"

"Yes, indeed; I keep that hand under the pillow at night."

"Well, a ring like that is positively essential; it is such a saving in gloves," said the girl with the black eyes.

"Yes, indeed, but what I like best is the fact that nobody else ever had one like it."

As she spoke the newly affianced walked over to the girl with the golden hair, who had all this time been looking idly out of the window.

"Don't you want to see my ring, Annie?" she asked with a note of triumph in her voice.

"Thank you," was the smiling reply. "I am glad you like it so much. By the way, you must be very careful of it, the setting is not very secure—I lost the stone once or twice while I was wearing it last year."

Then, in the midst of a silence which could be heard, she turned again to the window.—Chicago Tribune.

A Pious Thought.
Little Marjorie is by no means fond of going to church. She hates it so still, and "the man" talks some things she cannot yet understand.

"And when you can't understand what the minister means you must remember that he is talking about good and beautiful things, and you must make up your mind to think of something good yourself."

THAT LITERARY SENSATION IS

SAMANTHA at SARATOGA.

—BY JOSIAH ALLEN'S WIFE
(SAMANTHA HOLLIS.)

The book was written under the inspiration of a summer season "mid the world of fashion at Saratoga, the praiseworthy pleasure resort of America, where Princesses of the world, with Congressmen, Presidents, Millionaires, Railroad Kings, and Princes of Commerce of our own great nation with their wives, their beautiful daughters, and all the gayest hostess of fashion luxuriate in balmy breezes, display their personal charms, costly jewels, exquisite equipages, and revel in

ALL THE EXTREMES OF FASHIONABLE DISSIPATION.

"JOSIAH ALLEN'S WIFE" is a work of strong common sense that is pure and innocent as the prattle of a child, keeps the reader constantly enjoying

An Ever Fresh Feast of Fun.

It tells of follies, flirtations, low-necked dressing, duces, pug dogs, tobogganing, etc., in the author's inimitable and earth-provoking style.
